EXECUTIVE MBA – MANNHEIM WEEKEND TRACK

WEEKEND CLASSES

Each of our tracks is divided into cumulative training phases which allow you to study extensively while pursuing your career. Weekend track participants meet every other weekend from Friday to Saturday for 19 months (24 weekends in total). Extensive individual and team work is required between courses. Three five-day sessions in Mannheim and residencies abroad are also part of this curriculum. This format allows you to implement and evaluate course concepts and methods in your day-to-day business, guaranteeing real-world applicability.

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE

International residencies in Europe and Asia are essential elements of this program, in addition to the weekend instruction. They concentrate on specific subjects and are held in cooperation with our selected international partner institutions, e.g. in Hungary, Norway or Singapore. You will meet Executive MBA participants of our partner institutions, gain valuable insights into global business from internationally recognized experts and interact closely with local professionals and business cultures.

Our participants are international as well. You will learn and work in a multicultural community that promotes an understanding and appreciation of different perspectives. The various educational and professional backgrounds of our participants open up new ways of thinking – a crucial aspect of self-development and career advancement in today's global economy.

THE EXECUTIVE MBA NETWORK

The strong emphasis on teamwork in the ESSEC & MANNHEIM program fosters close relationships between participants of various educational and professional backgrounds from all over the world. The participants following one of the ESSEC & MANNHEIM Executive MBA tracks form a life-long network. Joint activities allow participants of the Mannheim Weekend Track to meet participants of the other tracks as well as alumni from both institutions.
