EXECUTIVE MBA –
PARIS WEEKEND TRACK

EXECUTIVE MBA – PARIS WEEKEND TRACK

WEEKEND CLASSES

Each of our tracks is divided into cumulative training phases which allow you to study extensively while pursuing your career. Weekend track participants meet every other weekend from Friday to Saturday for 18 months. Extensive individual and team work is required between courses. International residencies are also part of our Paris Weekend Track curriculum. This format allows you to implement and evaluate course concepts and methods in your day-to-day business, guaranteeing real-work

OPTIONAL ELECTIVE COURSES

Paris Weekend Track participants also have the opportunity to choose from over 200 courses offered in the full-time ESSEC MBA programme. These non-compulsory courses are excellent opportunities to expand your knowledge in specific areas of personal and professional interest.

“Change your skills, your horizons and your stature with a program that throws you into a melting pot of ideas and experiences.”

ALAN JENKINS, EXECUTIVE MBA
ACADEMIC DIRECTOR, ESSEC

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE

International residencies in Europe and Asia are essential elements of this program, in addition to the weekend instruction. They concentrate on specific subjects and are held in cooperation with selected international partner institutions, e.g. in Hungary, Belgium or Singapore. You will meet Executive MBA participants or our partner institutions and gain valuable insights into global business from internationally recognized experts and interact closely with local professionals and business cultures.

Our participants are international as well. You will attend courses in both French and English and learn and work in a multicultural community that promotes an understanding and appreciation of different perspectives - a crucial aspect of self-development and career advancement in today's global economy.

THE EXECUTIVE MBA NETWORK

The strong emphasis on teamwork in the ESSEC & MANNHEIM program fosters close relationships between participants of various educational and professional backgrounds from all over the world. The participants following one of the ESSEC & MANNHEIM Executive MBA tracks form a life-long network. Joint activities allow participants of the Paris Weekend Track to meet participants of the other tracks as well as alumni from both institutions. During certain periods of the program the ESSEC WE track participants will take courses jointly with the MBS WE participants.

FEE & FUNDING

The tuition fee for the Paris Weekend Track is € 42,500. This includes accommodation for all residencies outside France and the integration seminar, course instruction, and all required books and materials. Travel expenses are not included.

For complete details on the tuition fee, funding options and payment conditions, please visit our website (www.essec-mannheim.com) or contact our admissions offices in Paris.
