Athys advises Arche on their investments in private equity, indirectly through investments in funds and directly mainly through co-investments.

Besides, Athys advises companies and entrepreneurs with respect to capital transactions such as acquisitions, disposals, equity & debt financing in multiple industries. Typical transaction size: EUR 10m-100m

Mission

You will support our team on capital transactions and in particular assist with:

- conducting in-depth industry research and financial due diligence
- performing financial modeling and valuation work
- participating in the preparation of investment notes as well as marketing presentations
- communicating with debt and equity investors

Qualifications

Final year student of a leading European business school, with a strong understanding of accounting and corporate finance and ideally already probed in the course of a first exposure to audit, corporate finance or private equity. In addition to keen business curiousness, candidates are expected to be equipped with strong analytical skills, as well as a demonstrated sense of initiative and creativity. Very strong command of Excel along with fluency in spoken and written German, English and French is required. We are seeking entrepreneurial-minded candidates with effective communication skills who will become part of our team.
